

Modern slavery statement

We actively address the risks of violations of anti-human slavery laws and anti-modern slavery laws. We adopt procedures to ensure that modern slavery does not occur within our business environment, both internally and within our external supply base.

We support our people and customers to address any issues arising from modern slavery. We ensure:

1. Our core values within our business set the perimeters for how we expect our people to behave with colleagues, customers and suppliers.
2. We strive to treat everyone fairly and consistently. We have created a workplace that is open and transparent.
3. Our policies and procedures relating to the Modern Slavery act are in line with our culture and company values.

Through our company handbook and contracts of employment we have enabled our people to fully understand the steps taken by us as well as providing guidance on how to report any suspicions that they may have.
